
Contents

List of contributors	vii
Acknowledgements	xii
List of abbreviations	xiii

1. Migration, identity and wellbeing in China: recent developments and new research Fei Guo and Robyn R. Iredale	1
--	---

PART I TRENDS IN INTERNAL MIGRATION

2. Five decades of the Chinese hukou system Kam Wing Chan	23
3. Changing spatial and temporal patterns of China's floating population: findings from the 2010 and 2000 censuses Yu Zhu, Baoyu Xiao and Liyue Lin	48
4. Negative native-place stereotypes and discriminatory wage penalties in China's migrant labour markets Margaret Maurer-Fazio, Rachel Connelly and Ngoc-Han Thi Tran	71
5. Determinants of wage arrears and implications for the socio-economic wellbeing of China's migrant workers: evidence from Guangdong province Zhiming Cheng, Ingrid Nielsen and Russell Smyth	105
6. Migration and wellbeing of the elderly in rural China Yue Zhuo and Zai Liang	126
7. Minority mobility in Guizhou province, with a focus on planned resettlement and its implications for ethnicity and identity Jiaping Wu and Robyn R. Iredale	148
8. Boundaries, exclusion and identity construction: experiences of rural-urban migrants in China Yeqing Huang and Fei Guo	172

PART II INTERNATIONAL MIGRANTS' IDENTITY AND THEIR RELATIONSHIP WITH THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

9. From guiqiao to haidai: diaspora engagement and the evolving politics of return migration in China 199
Elaine Lynn-Ee Ho
10. Chinese in the United States: growth, dispersal and integration 215
Weiwei Zhang and John R. Logan
11. Chinese immigrants in the Sagrada Familia neighbourhood of Barcelona, Spain: their socio-economic viability and identity 238
Dawid Wladyka and Ricard Morén-Alegret
12. Negotiating scientific identities: Chinese scientists in Australia and their networks 256
Xiao Niu and Tim Turpin
13. The rise of China, changing patterns of out-migration and identity implications 278
Biao Xiang

PART III CONCLUSION

14. Current trends, emerging issues and future perspectives 297
Fei Guo and Robyn R. Iredale
- Index* 319